Natural Energy

Traditional herbs are a healthy source of energy!

Ginseng has been used as health ingredient throughout Asia for more than 5000 years, offering multiple benefits such as energy recovery, fatigue and stress alleviation.

Green tea, as a source of natural caffeine and antioxidants, stimulates energy production without causing jitters.

Turmeric, the natural Ayurvedic remedy from India, improves the body's endurance and strength, elevates and sustains energy with its golden ingredient – curcumin.

Yerba Mate, has been used as a base for herbal medicines in South America for centuries. It contains vitamins, minerals, amino acids, antioxidants and natural caffeine that boosts metabolism and improves mental alertness.
